

Library

Knowledge Base

Accessing your Reading List

The Reading List is where you can find the details of the books, book chapters, and journal articles your lecturer expects you to review in preparation for seminars, tutorials and assignments.

The Reading List is where you can find the details of the books, book chapters, and journal articles your lecturer expects you to review in preparation for seminars, tutorials and assignments.

- Use ReadingLists@Glasgow to make accessing these resources easy.

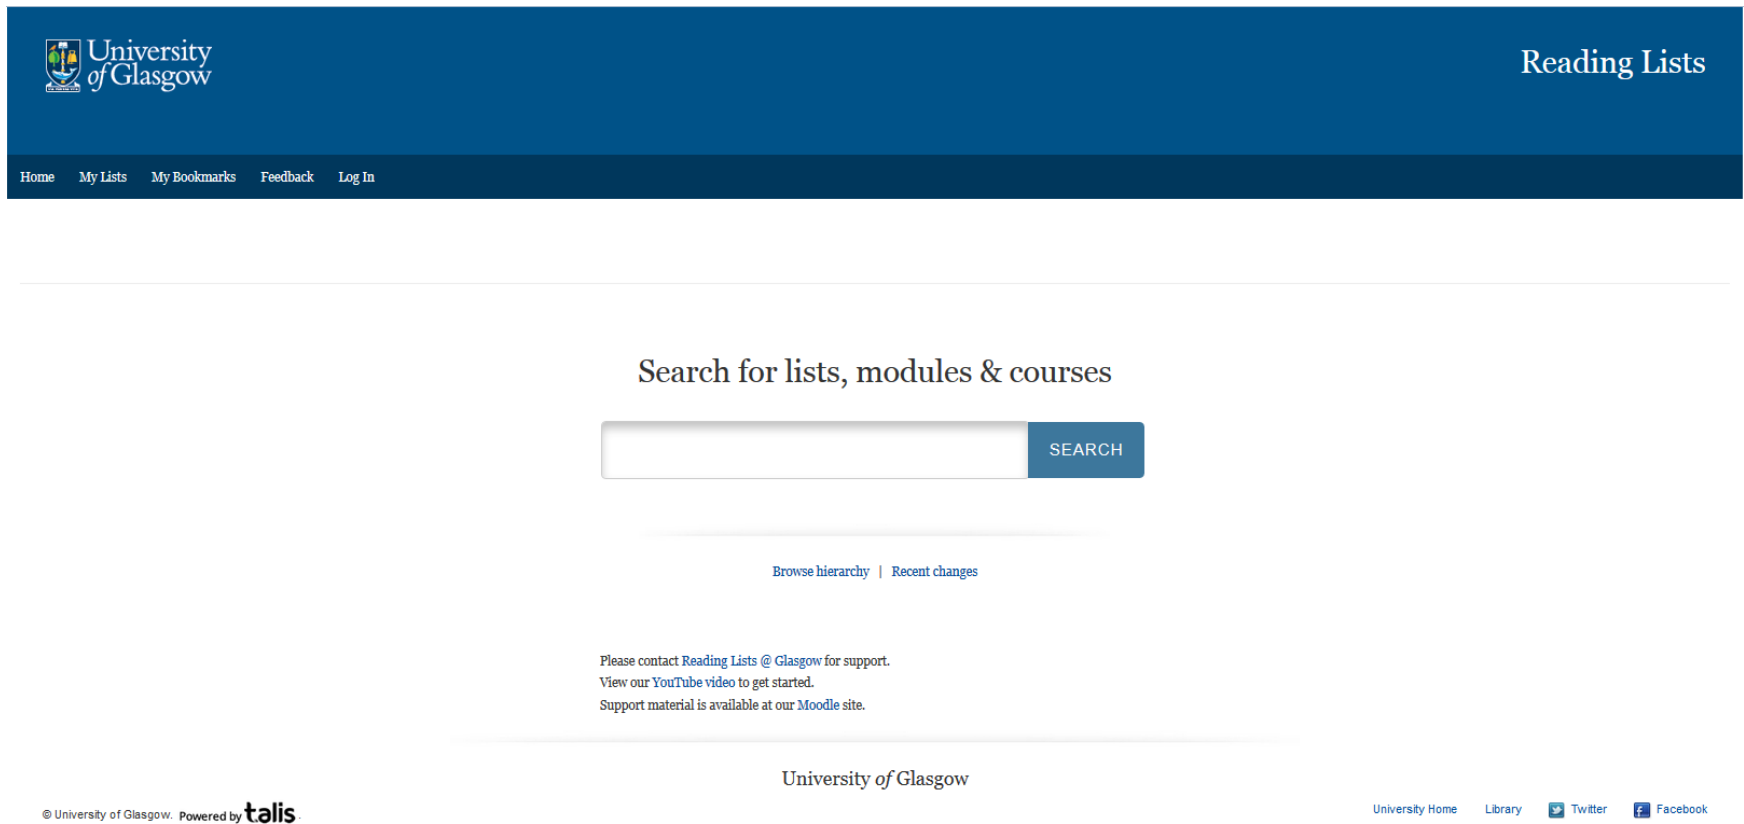

The Reading List is where you can find the details of the books, book chapters, and journal articles your lecturer expects you to review in preparation for seminars, tutorials and assignments.

- Use ReadingLists@Glasgow to make accessing these resources easy.
- Your course Moodle should have a link to the course Reading List.

If you can't access your Reading List through the link from the course Moodle, you can access it through readinglists.glasgow.ac.uk

The screenshot shows the top navigation bar of the University of Glasgow Reading Lists website. The header is dark blue with the University of Glasgow logo on the left and the text "Reading Lists" on the right. Below the header is a navigation menu with links for "Home", "My Lists", "My Bookmarks", "Feedback", and "Log In". The main content area is white and features a search bar with the text "Search for lists, modules & courses" above it. The search bar has a "SEARCH" button on the right. Below the search bar are links for "Browse hierarchy" and "Recent changes". A support message is displayed below these links, stating: "Please contact Reading Lists @ Glasgow for support. View our YouTube video to get started. Support material is available at our Moodle site." At the bottom of the page, there is a footer with the text "University of Glasgow" in the center, "© University of Glasgow. Powered by talis" on the left, and "University Home", "Library", "Twitter", and "Facebook" on the right.

Finding your Reading List

If you can't access your Reading List through the link from the course Moodle, you can access it through readinglists.glasgow.ac.uk

The screenshot shows the top navigation bar of the University of Glasgow Reading Lists website. On the left is the University of Glasgow logo. On the right is the text "Reading Lists". Below the logo is a horizontal menu with links for "Home", "My Lists", "My Bookmarks", "Feedback", and "Log In". A large, light-colored callout box on the right side of the page contains the text "Use the search box to look for your course". Below this is a search section with the heading "Search for lists, modules & courses" and a search input field with a "SEARCH" button. Underneath the search field are two links: "Browse hierarchy" and "Recent changes". At the bottom of the search section, there is a support notice: "Please contact Reading Lists @ Glasgow for support. View our YouTube video to get started. Support material is available at our Moodle site." The footer of the page includes the text "© University of Glasgow. Powered by talis" on the left, "University of Glasgow" in the center, and "University Home", "Library", "Twitter", and "Facebook" on the right.

Finding your Reading List

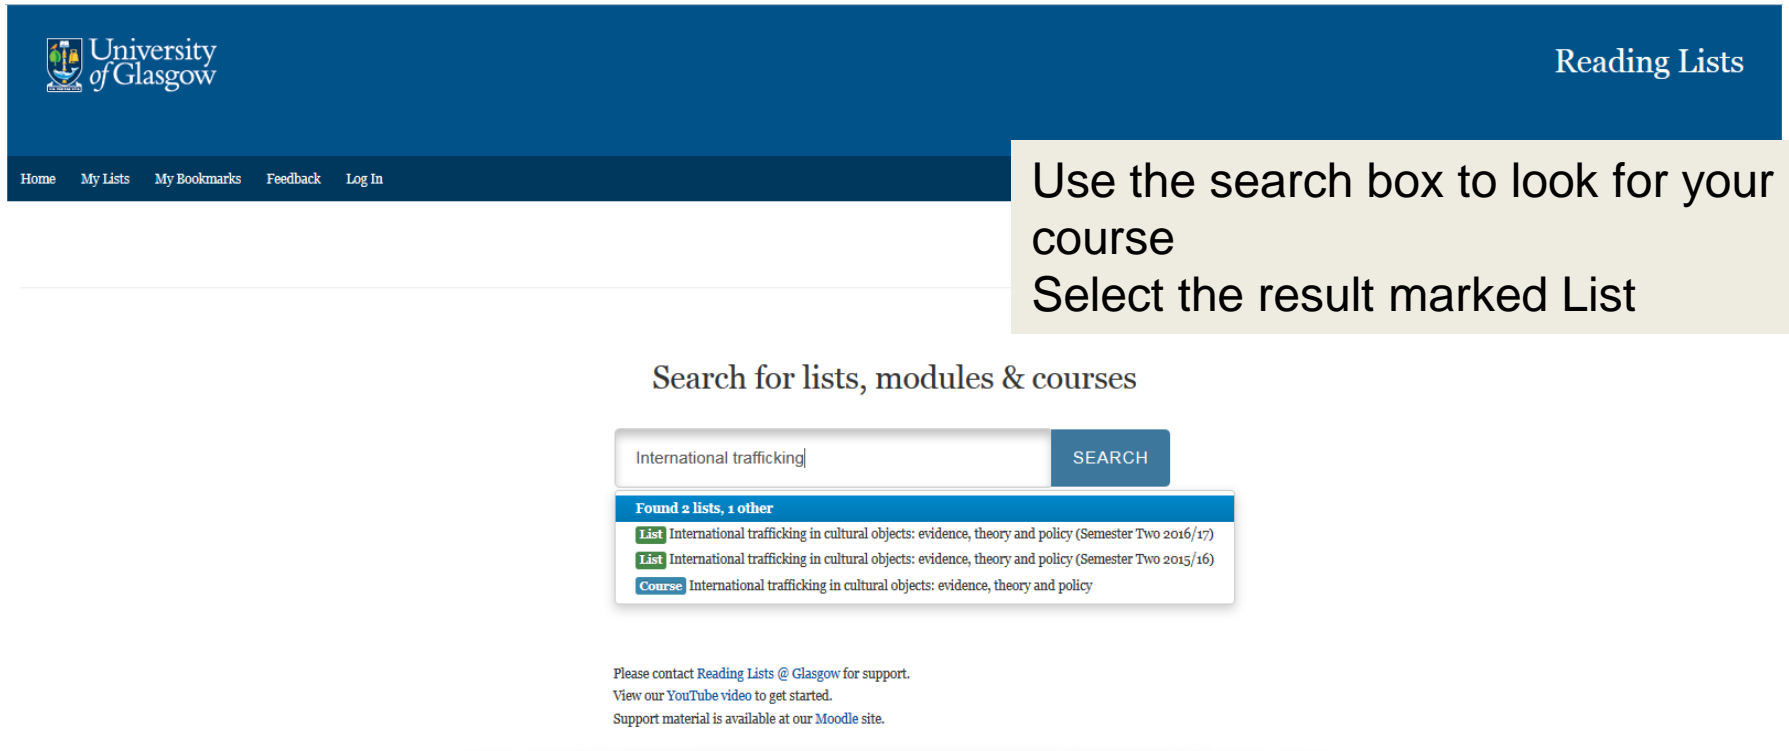

If you can't access your Reading List through the link from the course Moodle, you can access it through readinglists.glasgow.ac.uk

The screenshot shows the top navigation bar of the University of Glasgow Reading Lists website. The header is dark blue with the University of Glasgow logo on the left and the text "Reading Lists" on the right. Below the header is a dark blue navigation bar with links for "Home", "My Lists", "My Bookmarks", "Feedback", and "Log In". A light beige callout box on the right side of the page contains the text "Use the search box to look for your course". In the center of the page, there is a search section titled "Search for lists, modules & courses" with a search input field and a "SEARCH" button, both enclosed in a red rectangular box. Below the search box are links for "Browse hierarchy" and "Recent changes". At the bottom of the search section, there is a note: "Please contact Reading Lists @ Glasgow for support. View our YouTube video to get started. Support material is available at our Moodle site." The footer of the page includes the University of Glasgow logo, the text "© University of Glasgow. Powered by talis", and social media links for "University Home", "Library", "Twitter", and "Facebook".

Finding your Reading List

If you can't access your Reading List through the link from the course Moodle, you can access it through readinglists.glasgow.ac.uk

The screenshot shows the University of Glasgow Reading Lists website. At the top left is the University of Glasgow logo. At the top right is the text "Reading Lists". Below this is a navigation bar with links for "Home", "My Lists", "My Bookmarks", "Feedback", and "Log In". A large text box on the right side of the page says "Use the search box to look for your course" and "Select the result marked List". The main content area has a search bar with the text "International trafficking" and a "SEARCH" button. Below the search bar, a dropdown menu shows "Found 2 lists, 1 other". The results are:

- List International trafficking in cultural objects: evidence, theory and policy (Semester Two 2016/17)
- List International trafficking in cultural objects: evidence, theory and policy (Semester Two 2015/16)
- Course International trafficking in cultural objects: evidence, theory and policy

Below the search results, there is a note: "Please contact Reading Lists @ Glasgow for support. View our YouTube video to get started. Support material is available at our Moodle site."

University of Glasgow

© University of Glasgow. Powered by talis.

University Home Library Twitter Facebook

Finding your Reading List

If you can't access your Reading List through the link from the course Moodle, you can access it through readinglists.glasgow.ac.uk

University of Glasgow

Reading Lists

Home My Lists My Bookmarks Feedback Log In

Use the search box to look for your course
Select the result marked List

Search for lists, modules & courses

International trafficking SEARCH

Found 2 lists, 1 other

- List International trafficking in cultural objects: evidence, theory and policy (Semester Two 2016/17)
- List International trafficking in cultural objects: evidence, theory and policy (Semester Two 2015/16)
- Course International trafficking in cultural objects: evidence, theory and policy

Please contact Reading Lists @ Glasgow for support.
View our YouTube video to get started.
Support material is available at our Moodle site.

University of Glasgow

© University of Glasgow. Powered by talis.

University Home Library Twitter Facebook

Finding your Reading List

Each lecturer can set up the Reading List as they wish.
It may be arranged by:

Each lecturer can set up the Reading List as they wish.
It may be arranged by:

- week / assignment – everything you need to review for a particular discussion or assignment
- literature type – books; journal articles; professional guidance
- importance – required reading, suggested reading, for information

Each lecturer can set up the Reading List as they wish.
It may be arranged by:

- week / assignment – everything you need to review for a particular discussion or assignment
- literature type – books; journal articles; professional guidance
- importance – required reading, suggested reading, for information

Once you have worked out how your Reading List has been arranged, you will be able to move around it quickly.

Each lecturer can set up the Reading List as they wish.
It may be arranged by:

- week / assignment – everything you need to review for a particular discussion or assignment
- literature type – books; journal articles; professional guidance
- importance – required reading, suggested reading, for information

Once you have worked out how your Reading List has been arranged, you will be able to move around it quickly.

Here's a sample list, to give you an idea of how it works.

Human Rights and Scots Law Semester Year 2015/16

By Jim Murdoch
an academic

Linked to: LAW4025
Created: 10 months ago
Last updated: 10 months ago

View bibliography Recent changes Export

112 items Table of contents Grouped by section Apply filter Filter by author or title

Table of contents

- Theme 1 : Fundamental concepts in European human rights law [21 September 2015]
 - 1. Enforcement machinery
 - 2. Fundamental concepts in Strasbourg jurisprudence
- Theme 2 : Prisoners' rights [28 September 2015]
 - 1. Deprivation of liberty
 - 2. Ill-treatment; and detention conditions
 - 3. Other rights for detained persons
 - Voting rights

Theme 1 : Fundamental concepts in European human rights law [21 September 2015] 23 items

1. Enforcement machinery 19 items

First, for a (modern) fairy tale from Europe Jack and the Solemn Promise (on Moodle – written by a former judge and a senior registrar). Now start your (deeper) understanding of human rights. From year 1 studies, you are aware that a crucial distinction in human rights law is the distinction between civil and political rights and economic, social and cultural rights. The European Convention on Human Rights is primarily (but not exclusively) concerned with the former set of rights. Another important distinction is between individual and collective (or group) rights. This is of some importance in devising techniques for the enforcement of human rights. Much of this discussion is related to the historical development of human rights.

To prepare, read:-

- Human rights law in Scotland - Robert John Reed Reed, J. L. Murdoch, Robert John Reed Reed c2011
Book Essential See: caps 2.01-2.07; and 3.36-3.82; and 3.129-3.141
- N. v. THE UNITED KINGDOM - 26565/05 [2008] ECHR 453 (27 May 2008)
Document Essential
- Human rights law in Scotland - Robert John Reed Reed, J. L. Murdoch, Robert John Reed Reed c2011
Book Essential Quickly read through: 2.30-2.55 and 2.79-2.83
- ECHR - The Court | Videos
Webpage Essential Watch the video clips on the Court

Human Rights and Scots Law Semester Year 2015/16

 By Jim Murdoch
an academicView bibliography Recent changes Export

Click on Table of contents to navigate around the list, and find the section you require

112 items Table of contents

Grouped by section ▾

Apply filter ▾

Filter by author or title

Table of contents

Theme 1 : Fundamental concepts in European human rights law [21 September 2015]

1. Enforcement machinery
2. Fundamental concepts in Strasbourg jurisprudence

Theme 2 : Prisoners' rights [28 September 2015]

1. Deprivation of liberty
 2. Ill-treatment; and detention conditions
 3. Other rights for detained persons
- Voting rights

Theme 1 : Fundamental concepts in European human rights law [21 September 2015] 23 items

1. Enforcement machinery 19 items

First, for a (modern) fairy tale from Europe Jack and the Solemn Promise (on Moodle – written by a former judge and a senior registrar). Now start your (deeper) understanding of human rights. From year 1 studies, you are aware that a crucial distinction in human rights law is the distinction between civil and political rights and economic, social and cultural rights. The European Convention on Human Rights is primarily (but not exclusively) concerned with the former set of rights. Another important distinction is between individual and collective (or group) rights. This is of some importance in devising techniques for the enforcement of human rights. Much of this discussion is related to the historical development of human rights.

To prepare, read:-

Human rights law in Scotland - Robert John Reed Reed, J. L. Murdoch, Robert John Reed Reed c2011
Book Essential See: caps 2.01-2.07; and 3.36-3.82; and 3.129-3.141

N. v. THE UNITED KINGDOM - 26565/05 [2008] ECHR 453 (27 May 2008)
Document Essential

Human rights law in Scotland - Robert John Reed Reed, J. L. Murdoch, Robert John Reed Reed c2011
Book Essential Quickly read through: 2.30-2.55 and 2.79-2.83

ECHR - The Court | Videos
Webpage Essential Watch the video clips on the Court

Human Rights and Scots Law Semester Year 2015/16

 By Jim Murdoch
an academicView bibliography Recent changes Export

Click on Table of contents to navigate around the list, and find the section you require

112 items Table of contents

Grouped by section ▾

Apply filter ▾

Filter by author or title

Table of contents

Theme 1 : Fundamental concepts in European human rights law [21 September 2015]

1. Enforcement machinery
2. Fundamental concepts in Strasbourg jurisprudence

Theme 2 : Prisoners' rights [28 September 2015]

1. Deprivation of liberty
 2. Ill-treatment; and detention conditions
 3. Other rights for detained persons
- Voting rights

Theme 1 : Fundamental concepts in European human rights law [21 September 2015] 23 items

1. Enforcement machinery 19 items

First, for a (modern) fairy tale from Europe Jack and the Solemn Promise (on Moodle – written by a former judge and a senior registrar). Now start your (deeper) understanding of human rights. From year 1 studies, you are aware that a crucial distinction in human rights law is the distinction between civil and political rights and economic, social and cultural rights. The European Convention on Human Rights is primarily (but not exclusively) concerned with the former set of rights. Another important distinction is between individual and collective (or group) rights. This is of some importance in devising techniques for the enforcement of human rights. Much of this discussion is related to the historical development of human rights.

To prepare, read:-

Human rights law in Scotland - Robert John Reed Reed, J. L. Murdoch, Robert John Reed Reed c2011
Book Essential See: caps 2.01-2.07; and 3.36-3.82; and 3.129-3.141

N. v. THE UNITED KINGDOM - 26565/05 [2008] ECHR 453 (27 May 2008)
Document Essential

Human rights law in Scotland - Robert John Reed Reed, J. L. Murdoch, Robert John Reed Reed c2011
Book Essential Quickly read through: 2.30-2.55 and 2.79-2.83

ECHR - The Court | Videos
Webpage Essential Watch the video clips on the Court

Human Rights and Scots Law Semester Year 2015/16

By Jim Murdoch
an academic

- View bibliography
- Recent changes
- Export

Click on Table of contents to navigate around the list, and find the section you require

112 items Table of contents Grouped by section Apply filter

Table of contents

Theme 1 : Fundamental concepts in European human rights law [21 September 2015]

- 1. Enforcement machinery
- 2. Fundamental concepts in Strasbourg jurisprudence

Theme 2 : Prisoners' rights [28 September 2015]

- 1. Deprivation of liberty
- 2. Ill-treatment; and detention conditions
- 3. Other rights for detained persons

Voting rights

Theme 1 : Fundamental concepts in European human rights law [21 September 2015] 23 items

1. Enforcement machinery 19 items

First, for a (modern) fairy tale from Europe Jack and the Solemn Promise (on Moodle – written by a former judge and a senior registrar). Now start your (deeper) understanding of human rights. From year 1 studies, you are aware that a crucial distinction in human rights law is the distinction between civil and political rights and economic, social and cultural rights. The European Convention on Human Rights is primarily (but not exclusively) concerned with the former set of rights. Another important distinction is between individual and collective (or group) rights. This is of some importance in devising techniques for the enforcement of human rights. Much of this discussion is related to the historical development of human rights.

To prepare, read:-

- Human rights law in Scotland - Robert John Reed Reed, J. L. Murdoch, Robert John Reed Reed c2011
Book Essential See: caps 2.01-2.07; and 3.36-3.82; and 3.129-3.141
- N. v. THE UNITED KINGDOM - 26565/05 [2008] ECHR 453 (27 May 2008)
Document Essential
- Human rights law in Scotland - Robert John Reed Reed, J. L. Murdoch, Robert John Reed Reed c2011
Book Essential Quickly read through: 2.30-2.55 and 2.79-2.83
- ECHR - The Court | Videos
Webpage Essential Watch the video clips on the Court

Human Rights and Scots Law Semester Year 2015/16

By Jim Murdoch
an academic

View bibliography Recent changes Export

112 items Table of contents

Grouped by section Apply filter Filter by author or title

Table of contents

Theme 1 : Fundamental concepts in European human rights law [21 September 2015]

1. Enforcement machinery
2. Fundamental concepts in Strasbourg jurisprudence

Theme 2 : Prisoners' rights [28 September 2015]

1. Deprivation of liberty
2. Ill-treatment; and detention conditions
3. Other rights for detained persons
 - Voting rights

Theme 1 : Fundamental concepts in European human rights law [21 September 2015] 23 items

1. Enforcement machinery 19 items

First, for a (modern) fairy tale from Europe Jack and the Solemn Promise (on Moodle – written by a former judge and a senior registrar). Now start your (deeper) understanding of human rights. From year 1 studies, you are aware that a crucial distinction in human rights law is the distinction between civil and political rights and economic, social and cultural rights. The European Convention on Human Rights is primarily (but not exclusively) concerned with the former set of rights. Another important distinction is between individual and collective (or group) rights. This is of some importance in devising techniques for the enforcement of human rights. Much of this discussion is related to the historical development of human rights.

To prepare, read:-

Human rights law in Scotland - Robert John Reed Reed, J. L. Murdoch, Robert John Reed Reed c2011
Book Essential See: caps 2.01-2.07; and 3.36-3.82; and 3.129-3.141

N. v. THE UNITED KINGDOM - 26565/05 [2008] ECHR 453 (27 May 2008)
Document Essential

Human rights law in Scotland - Robert John Reed Reed, J. L. Murdoch, Robert John Reed Reed c2011
Book Essential Quickly read through: 2.30-2.55 and 2.79-2.83

ECHR - The Court | Videos
Webpage Essential Watch the video clips on the Court

Click on the online resource button to link directly to ebooks, ejournal articles, digitised readings, and websites

Human Rights and Scots Law Semester Year 2015/16

By Jim Murdoch
an academic

- View bibliography
- Recent changes
- Export

Click on the online resource button to link directly to ebooks, ejournal articles, digitised readings, and websites

112 items Table of contents Grouped by section Apply filter Filter by author or title

Table of contents

- Theme 1 : Fundamental concepts in European human rights law [21 September 2015]
 - 1. Enforcement machinery
 - 2. Fundamental concepts in Strasbourg jurisprudence
- Theme 2 : Prisoners' rights [28 September 2015]
 - 1. Deprivation of liberty
 - 2. Ill-treatment; and detention conditions
 - 3. Other rights for detained persons
 - Voting rights

Theme 1 : Fundamental concepts in European human rights law [21 September 2015] 23 items

1. Enforcement machinery 19 items

First, for a (modern) fairy tale from Europe Jack and the Solemn Promise (on Moodle – written by a former judge and a senior registrar). Now start your (deeper) understanding of human rights. From year 1 studies, you are aware that a crucial distinction in human rights law is the distinction between civil and political rights and economic, social and cultural rights. The European Convention on Human Rights is primarily (but not exclusively) concerned with the former set of rights. Another important distinction is between individual and collective (or group) rights. This is of some importance in devising techniques for the enforcement of human rights. Much of this discussion is related to the historical development of human rights.

To prepare, read:-

- Human rights law in Scotland - Robert John Reed Reed, J. L. Murdoch, Robert John Reed Reed c2011
Book Essential See: caps 2.01-2.07; and 3.36-3.82; and 3.129-3.141
- N. v. THE UNITED KINGDOM - 26565/05 [2008] ECHR 453 (27 May 2008)
Document Essential
- Human rights law in Scotland - Robert John Reed Reed, J. L. Murdoch, Robert John Reed Reed c2011
Book Essential Quickly read through: 2.30-2.55 and 2.79-2.83
- ECHR - The Court | Videos
Webpage Essential Watch the video clips on the Court

Human Rights and Scots Law Semester Year 2015/16

 By Jim Murdoch
an academic

View bibliography Recent changes Export

Click on the title of the book or article to get some more details of what you have to read

112 items Table of contents

Grouped by section ▾

Apply filter ▾

Filter by author or title

Table of contents

Theme 1 : Fundamental concepts in European human rights law [21 September 2015]

1. Enforcement machinery
2. Fundamental concepts in Strasbourg jurisprudence

Theme 2 : Prisoners' rights [28 September 2015]

1. Deprivation of liberty
 2. Ill-treatment; and detention conditions
 3. Other rights for detained persons
- Voting rights

Theme 1 : Fundamental concepts in European human rights law [21 September 2015] 23 items

1. Enforcement machinery 19 items

First, for a (modern) fairy tale from Europe Jack and the Solemn Promise (on Moodle – written by a former judge and a senior registrar). Now start your (deeper) understanding of human rights. From year 1 studies, you are aware that a crucial distinction in human rights law is the distinction between civil and political rights and economic, social and cultural rights. The European Convention on Human Rights is primarily (but not exclusively) concerned with the former set of rights. Another important distinction is between individual and collective (or group) rights. This is of some importance in devising techniques for the enforcement of human rights. Much of this discussion is related to the historical development of human rights.

To prepare, read:-

Human rights law in Scotland - Robert John Reed Reed, J. L. Murdoch, Robert John Reed Reed c2011
Book Essential See: caps 2.01-2.07; and 3.36-3.82; and 3.129-3.141

N. v. THE UNITED KINGDOM - 26565/05 [2008] ECHR 453 (27 May 2008)
Document Essential

Human rights law in Scotland - Robert John Reed Reed, J. L. Murdoch, Robert John Reed Reed c2011
Book Essential Quickly read through: 2.30-2.55 and 2.79-2.83

ECHR - The Court | Videos
Webpage Essential Watch the video clips on the Court

Human Rights and Scots Law Semester Year 2015/16

By Jim Murdoch
an academic

View bibliography Recent changes Export

Click on the title of the book or article to get some more details of what you have to read

112 items Table of contents Grouped by section ▾ Apply filter ▾

Table of contents

Theme 1 : Fundamental concepts in European human rights law [21 September 2015]

- 1. Enforcement machinery
- 2. Fundamental concepts in Strasbourg jurisprudence

Theme 2 : Prisoners' rights [28 September 2015]

- 1. Deprivation of liberty
- 2. Ill-treatment; and detention conditions
- 3. Other rights for detained persons
 - Voting rights

Theme 1 : Fundamental concepts in European human rights law [21 September 2015] 23 items

1. Enforcement machinery 19 items

First, for a (modern) fairy tale from Europe Jack and the Solemn Promise (on Moodle – written by a former judge and a senior registrar). Now start your (deeper) understanding of human rights. From year 1 studies, you are aware that a crucial distinction in human rights law is the distinction between civil and political rights and economic, social and cultural rights. The European Convention on Human Rights is primarily (but not exclusively) concerned with the former set of rights. Another important distinction is between individual and collective (or group) rights. This is of some importance in devising techniques for the enforcement of human rights. Much of this discussion is related to the historical development of human rights.

To prepare, read:-

- Human rights law in Scotland - Robert John Reed Reed, J. L. Murdoch, Robert John Reed Reed c2011 Book Essential See: caps 2.01-2.07; and 3.36-3.82; and 3.129-3.141
- [N. v. THE UNITED KINGDOM - 26565/05 \[2008\] ECHR 453 \(27 May 2008\)](#) Document Essential
- Human rights law in Scotland - Robert John Reed Reed, J. L. Murdoch, Robert John Reed Reed c2011 Book Essential Quickly read through: 2.30-2.55 and 2.79-2.83
- ECHR - The Court | Videos Webpage Essential Watch the video clips on the Court

To use all the features of ReadingLists@Glasgow, you can Log In using your GUID.

To use all the features of ReadingLists@Glasgow, you can Log In using your GUID.

Human Rights and Scots Law Semester Year 2015/16

 By Jim Murdoch
an academic

Linked to: LAW4025
Created: 10 months ago
Last updated: 10 months ago

View bibliography Recent changes Export

112 items Table of contents

Grouped by section Apply filter

Table of contents

Theme 1 : Fundamental concepts in European human rights law [21 September 2015]

1. Enforcement machinery
2. Fundamental concepts in Strasbourg jurisprudence

Theme 2 : Prisoners' rights [28 September 2015]

1. Deprivation of liberty
2. Ill-treatment; and detention conditions
3. Other rights for detained persons

Theme 1 : Fundamental concepts in European human rights law [21 September 2015] 23 items

1. Enforcement machinery 19 items

First, for a (modern) fairy tale from Europe Jack and the Solemn Promise (on Moodle – written by a former judge and a senior registrar). Now start your (deeper) understanding of human rights. From year 1 studies, you are aware that a crucial distinction in human rights law is the distinction between civil and political rights and economic, social and cultural rights. The European Convention on Human Rights is primarily (but not exclusively) concerned with the former set of rights. Another important distinction is between individual and collective (or group) rights. This is of some importance in devising techniques for the enforcement of human rights. Much of this discussion is related to the historical development of human rights.

To prepare, read:-

Human rights law in Scotland - Robert John Reed Reed, J. L. Murdoch, Robert John Reed Reed c2011
Book Essential See: caps 2.01-2.07; and 3.36-3.82; and 3.129-3.141

N. v. THE UNITED KINGDOM - 26565/05 [2008] ECHR 453 (27 May 2008)
Document Essential

Human rights law in Scotland - Robert John Reed Reed, J. L. Murdoch, Robert John Reed Reed c2011
Book Essential Quickly read through a 20, 25 and a 30-32

Getting more from your Reading List

To use all the features of ReadingLists@Glasgow, you can Log In using your GUID.

The screenshot shows the University of Glasgow Reading Lists website. At the top left is the University of Glasgow logo. The top right corner says "Reading Lists". A dark blue navigation bar contains the following links: Home, My Lists, My Bookmarks, Feedback, and Log In. Below this, the main content area is titled "Human Rights and Scots Law Semester Year 2015/16" by "Jim Murdoch an academic". There are buttons for "View bibliography", "Recent changes", and "Export". On the right side, there are details: "Linked to: LAW4025", "Created: 10 months ago", and "Last updated: 10 months ago". The main content area shows "112 items" and a "Table of contents" sidebar. The sidebar lists "Theme 1 : Fundamental concepts in European human rights law [21 September 2015]" with sub-items "1. Enforcement machinery" and "2. Fundamental concepts in Strasbourg jurisprudence", and "Theme 2 : Prisoners' rights [28 September 2015]" with sub-items "1. Deprivation of liberty", "2. Ill-treatment; and detention conditions", and "3. Other rights for detained persons". The main content area displays "Theme 1 : Fundamental concepts in European human rights law [21 September 2015] 23 items" and "1. Enforcement machinery 19 items". It includes a paragraph of text, a "To prepare, read:-" section, and three items: "Human rights law in Scotland - Robert John Reed Reed, J. L. Murdoch, Robert John Reed Reed c2011", "N. v. THE UNITED KINGDOM - 26565/05 [2008] ECHR 453 (27 May 2008)", and "Human rights law in Scotland - Robert John Reed Reed, J. L. Murdoch, Robert John Reed Reed c2011".

Getting more from your Reading List

Use the Read status and Add note features to prioritise your reading, and keep notes on what you have read.

Use the Read status and Add note features to prioritise your reading, and keep notes on what you have read.

Theme 1 : Fundamental concepts in European human rights law [21 September 2015] 23 items

1. Enforcement machinery 19 items

First, for a (modern) fairy tale from Europe Jack and the Solemn Promise (on Moodle – written by a former judge and a senior registrar). Now start your (deeper) understanding of human rights. From year 1 studies, you are aware that a crucial distinction in human rights law is the distinction between civil and political rights and economic, social and cultural rights. The European Convention on Human Rights is primarily (but not exclusively) concerned with the former set of rights. Another important distinction is between individual and collective (or group) rights. This is of some importance in devising techniques for the enforcement of human rights. Much of this discussion is related to the historical development of human rights.

To prepare, read:-

Human rights law in Scotland - Robert John Reed Reed, J. L. Murdoch, Robert John Reed Reed c2011
Book Essential See: caps 2.01-2.07; and 3.36-3.82; and 3.129-3.141

Preview

Read status ▾ Add note

N. v. THE UNITED KINGDOM - 26565/05 [2008] ECHR 453 (27 May 2008)

Document Essential

Online Resource

Read status ▾ Add note

Human rights law in Scotland - Robert John Reed Reed, J. L. Murdoch, Robert John Reed Reed c2011
Book Essential Quickly read through: 2.30-2.55 and 2.79-2.83

Preview

Read status ▾ Add note

ECHR - The Court | Videos

Webpage Essential Watch the video clips on the Court

Online Resource

Read status ▾ Add note

ECHR - The Court | Information documents

Webpage Essential Spend some time browsing

Online Resource

Read status ▾ Add note

Why is the Court 'the victim of its own success'? Consult below (AND other material, including Protocols no 15 and 16 (15 – in respect of subsidiarity). What do you think is the main reason for the workload issue? What would you do? BE PREPARED to discuss this issue in class!

Reform of the European Court of Human Rights - Council of Europe

Webpage

Online Resource

Read status ▾ Add note

Getting more from your Reading List

Use the Read status and Add note features to prioritise your reading, and keep notes on what you have read.

Theme 1 : Fundamental concepts in European human rights law [21 September 2015] 23 items

1. Enforcement machinery 19 items

First, for a (modern) fairy tale from Europe Jack and the Solemn Promise (on Moodle – written by a former judge and a senior registrar). Now start your (deeper) understanding of human rights. From year 1 studies, you are aware that a crucial distinction in human rights law is the distinction between civil and political rights and economic, social and cultural rights. The European Convention on Human Rights is primarily (but not exclusively) concerned with the former set of rights. Another important distinction is between individual and collective (or group) rights. This is of some importance in devising techniques for the enforcement of human rights. Much of this discussion is related to the historical development of human rights.

To prepare, read:-

Human rights law in Scotland - Robert John Reed Reed, J. L. Murdoch, Robert John Reed Reed c2011
Book Essential See: caps 2.01-2.07; and 3.36-3.82; and 3.129-3.141

N. v. THE UNITED KINGDOM - 26565/05 [2008] ECHR 453 (27 May 2008)

Document Essential

Human rights law in Scotland - Robert John Reed Reed, J. L. Murdoch, Robert John Reed Reed c2011
Book Essential Quickly read through: 2.30-2.55 and 2.79-2.83

ECHR - The Court | Videos

Webpage Essential Watch the video clips on the Court

ECHR - The Court | Information documents

Webpage Essential Spend some time browsing

Why is the Court 'the victim of its own success'? Consult below (AND other material, including Protocols no 15 and 16 (15 – in respect of subsidiarity). What do you think is the main reason for the workload issue? What would you do? BE PREPARED to discuss this issue in class!

Reform of the European Court of Human Rights - Council of Europe

Webpage

Getting more from your Reading List

Use the View bibliography and Export options to help you reference and cite accurately in your assignments

Use the View bibliography and Export options to help you reference and cite accurately in your assignments

Human Rights and Scots Law Semester Year 2015/16

By Jim Murdoch
an academic

Add to My Lists

Linked to: LAW4025
Created: 10 months ago
Last updated: 10 months ago
Student numbers: 40

View bibliography Recent changes Edit Request review Export

112 items Table of contents Dashboard

Grouped by section Apply filter

Filter by author or title

Theme 1 : Fundamental concepts in European human rights law [21 September 2015] 23 items

1. Enforcement machinery 19 items

First, for a (modern) fairy tale from Europe Jack and the Solemn Promise (on Moodle – written by a former judge and a senior registrar). Now start your (deeper) understanding of human rights. From year 1 studies, you are aware that a crucial distinction in human rights law is the distinction between civil and political rights and economic, social and cultural rights. The European Convention on Human Rights is primarily (but not exclusively) concerned with the former set of rights. Another important distinction is between individual and collective (or group) rights. This is of some importance in devising techniques for the enforcement of human rights. Much of this discussion is related to the historical development of human rights.

To prepare, read:-

Human rights law in Scotland - Robert John Reed Reed, J. L. Murdoch, Robert John Reed Reed c2011
Book Essential See: caps 2.01-2.07; and 3.36-3.82; and 3.129-3.141

Preview

Read status Add note

N. v. THE UNITED KINGDOM - 26565/05 [2008] ECHR 453 (27 May 2008)
Document Essential

Online Resource

Read status Add note

Human rights law in Scotland - Robert John Reed Reed, J. L. Murdoch, Robert John Reed Reed c2011
Book Essential Quickly read through: 2.30-2.55 and 2.79-2.83

Preview

Read status Add note

ECHR - The Court | Videos
Webpage Essential Watch the video clips on the Court

Online Resource

Read status Add note

ECHR - The Court | Information documents
Webpage Essential Spend some time browsing

Online Resource

Read status Add note

Why is the Court "the victim of its own success"? Consult below (AND other material, including Protocols no 15 and 16 (15 – in respect of subsidiarity). What do you think is the main reason for the workload issue? What would you do? BE PREPARED to discuss this issue in class!

Reform of the European Court of Human Rights - Council of Europe
Webpage

Online Resource

Read status Add note

Getting more from your Reading List

Use the View bibliography and Export options to help you reference and cite accurately in your assignments

Human Rights and Scots Law Semester Year 2015/16

By Jim Murdoch
an academic

Add to My Lists

Linked to: LAW4025
Created: 10 months ago
Last updated: 10 months ago
Student numbers: 40

 View bibliography

 Recent changes

 Export ▾

Grouped by section ▾

Apply filter ▾

Filter by author or title

Theme 1 : Fundamental concepts in European human rights law [21 September 2015] 23 items

1. Enforcement machinery 19 items

First, for a (modern) fairy tale from Europe Jack and the Solemn Promise (on Moodle – written by a former judge and a senior registrar). Now start your (deeper) understanding of human rights. From year 1 studies, you are aware that a crucial distinction in human rights law is the distinction between civil and political rights and economic, social and cultural rights. The European Convention on Human Rights is primarily (but not exclusively) concerned with the former set of rights. Another important distinction is between individual and collective (or group) rights. This is of some importance in devising techniques for the enforcement of human rights. Much of this discussion is related to the historical development of human rights.

To prepare, read:-

Human rights law in Scotland - Robert John Reed Reed, J. L. Murdoch, Robert John Reed Reed c2011
Book | Essential See: caps 2.01-2.07; and 3.36-3.82; and 3.129-3.141

 Preview

 Read status ▾  Add note

N. v. THE UNITED KINGDOM - 26565/05 [2008] ECHR 453 (27 May 2008)
Document | Essential

 Online Resource

 Read status ▾  Add note

Human rights law in Scotland - Robert John Reed Reed, J. L. Murdoch, Robert John Reed Reed c2011
Book | Essential Quickly read through: 2.30-2.55 and 2.79-2.83

 Preview

 Read status ▾  Add note

ECHR - The Court | Videos
Webpage | Essential Watch the video clips on the Court

 Online Resource

 Read status ▾  Add note

ECHR - The Court | Information documents
Webpage | Essential Spend some time browsing

 Online Resource

 Read status ▾  Add note

Why is the Court 'the victim of its own success'? Consult below (AND other material, including Protocols no 15 and 16 (15 – in respect of subsidiarity). What do you think is the main reason for the workload issue? What would you do? BE PREPARED to discuss this issue in class!

Reform of the European Court of Human Rights - Council of Europe
Webpage

 Online Resource

 Read status ▾  Add note

Getting more from your Reading List

Library

Knowledge Base

Thank you, this presentation is complete.

Please close this presentation.

